

Welcome to KindNews!

National Infertility Awareness Week (NIAW) will take place April 20-26, 2025. One in six people suffer from infertility worldwide and many individuals and families need support in order to build their family. For such a common reality, so much confusion, stigma, and questions still exist. During NIAW, Kindbody is proud to partner with RESOLVE: The National Infertility Association, on important advocacy and education to ensure everyone struggling with this disease gets the insights and support they need. Check out our event below which will feature Dr. Roohi Jeelani and RESOLVE.
