

Kindbody Live:

Tools for Deeper Connection

This session will explore intimacy and connection, with expert insights on building closeness and communication at every life stage.

When

Tuesday, February 24
5pm EST

Hosted by

Dr. Kristen Cain

Kindbody Reproductive Endocrinologist

RSVP

Connection and Support During Fertility Care

We're highlighting the role of emotional wellbeing, intimacy, and partner support during fertility treatment. Small moments of connection can make a powerful difference along the way.

Connection Matters

Small gestures, open conversations, and shared rituals help partners stay emotionally close during fertility treatment.

Read the Full Post

Kindbody Info Session

Get your questions answered & explore your options with Dr. Fahimeh Sasan. Guidance is here whether you're ready to start now or planning for the future. Join us on February 12, at 3 PM EST.

RSVP Here

Meet Dr. Kristen Cain

Dr. Cain is a board-certified Reproductive Endocrinologist, passionate about supporting patients at every stage of their family-building journey.

Learn More

KindStories:

Darcy Noren

"Having access to a local fertility clinic, combined with financial support to pursue our dreams, truly transformed our lives and made our IVF journey possible. The care team at Kindbody Rogers was exceptional. In April 2025, our dream became a reality when we welcomed our sweet baby girl, Louisa."

Read More

Contact us at any time.

employeebenefits@kindbody.com

